TALL BUILDINGS REQUIRE BETTER FIRE APPARATUS

Top Floors Will Have Private Water System to Aid Department.

Chief Wood Says New Engine is Needed Now.

WORK ON WEST END STATION.

It will be necessary to install a private water system in the four upper stories of the new office building of the City National bank, which will be ready for occupancy next year. The building will be above the water level of the standpipe, and in order to furnish the four floors with water the private system will be essential. The question of fire protection will also mean a private system, as Chief Wood says with the pressure from the mains will enable the fire department to fight fires up to the sixth floor.

The erection of the new office building emphasizes the need of a new and modern fire engine by the fire department. The present engine is a fourth size, and was purchased in 1881, six years before the paid fire department was organized. Since then the engine has rendered good service, but has outlived its usefulness, despite the fact that by constant repairs it has been kept in condition for use in the mill district. When purchased the engine had a capacity of 400 gallons a minute, but that is inadequate for the city now.

Fire Chief Wood said: "There isn't any getting around it; the department needs a new fire engine in order to handle a big fire properly, and to give us increased pressure. I believe that by next year we will have the engine in the new Central station, and with it we would be fully equipped to fight a fire in any building, no matter how high. When the new skyscraper is completed, we will be able to take care of the first six floors with the pressure from the mains, but a private system will be necessary for the four upper floors unless the engine is secured."

The Engine.

Chief Wood has picked out an engine of the second class as suitable for Paducah for years to come. The engine has all of the modern improvements, and is capable of throwing a stream of water at the rate of 1,000 gallons of water a minute. The cost of the engine will be between $5,000 and $5,500, and it is expected that this need will be taken care of in the next appropriation for the department. The present engine is kept at the No. 2 fire station, but the new station will have its home at the Central station. It is intended to retain the old engine for use in pumping water for any of the city departments.

New Fire Station.

Plans for the new fire station, No. 5, have been completed by Architect W. L. Brainerd, and the building will be an ideal station for the residence district. It will be one of the most attractive buildings in the vicinity of handsome homes. The building was designed essentially by Fire Chief Wood, who has gathered points by his visits to stations in all parts of the country, but it will resemble closely a residence station in Marion, Ohio.

The building will face Broadway, and will be just a few feet west of Fountain avenue. It will be 30x75 feet and it is intended to use yellow pressed brick for the front. There will be a gable visible at each side of the building, and in many respects the exterior will resemble a residence. The building will be located, back from the sidewalk with a pretty lawn around it.

The lower floor will be concrete and there will be space for two horses and one wagon. In the rear will be the exercise room for the firemen. Upstairs will be the sleeping rooms, and the store and food room. Provisions have been made for four men, as the residence stations do not need to have a large equipment.

The new station will relieve the present station greatly as practically all of the territory west of Eleventh street, will be included for the new station.

The cost of the new station will be about $5,000.

Mrs. Hiram Gleason, 35 years old, a well known matron of Eighth and Flournoy streets, died at Riverside hospital last night at 11 o'clock. She is survived by her husband. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning and the burial will be in Oak Grove.

Ballinger Probe Committee Will Conclude Hearing by Last of May and Then Take Up Coal Claims

Secretary Himself Will be Star Witness Before Committee--Many Others Subpoenaed.

Washington, March 17.—The congressional committee expects to complete the investigation of the Ballinger-Pinchot squabble by the end of May and submit its report to congress or go to Alaska to investigate the claims. Sixteen witnesses will testify, with Ballinger as the star witness for the defense. Several officers of the Guggenheim Alaskan syndicate were subpoenaed to appear and reiterate the statement made before the senate committee on territories. Bowman will testify that letters were found in Glavis' box at Seattle. Several forestry officers discharged with Pinchot, also are expected to be called with magazine men.

Debate on Railroad Bill.

In the sharpest debate yet provoked in the senate on the administration railroad bill, the bitter criticisms of the action of the supporters of the bill in trying to put the measure through without amendment, elicited from Senator Aldrich the admission that the bill could be amended.

This statement was made during the second day of Senator Cummins' speech attacking the bill, but not until after the friends of the measure had been accused of trying to hide behind the president, and the fact that it had been drafted at his direction.

President is Mentioned.

For more than two hours the president figured in the discussion and for a time his title, if not his name was bandied about with freedom that amounted to almost recklessness. In this portion of the debate, Senators Aldrich, Bailey, Cummins, Root, Elkins and Bacon figured conspicuously.

Cummins contended that the provision referring to traffic agreements would render them legal without submission to the commission. He asserted that there had been a conspicuous silence in the committee on

Fell Through Hatchway.

While walking across a houseboat, Floyd Sanders, a mill laborer, fell through a hatchway, and his left shoulder was dislocated besides sustaining bruises over the body. Sanders suffered considerable pain today, but his physicians say he will recover. He lives on a houseboat near the mouth of Island creek, and was on his boat yesterday afternoon when the accident occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sledge have returned to their home at Memphis, after a pleasant visit to Mrs. Sledge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lutz, 825 South Tenth street.

Woman Throws Self Before Tart's Auto

Chicago, March 17.—President Taft was welcomed to Chicago at 8 a. m. by the booming of 21 guns on the lake front. The Irish Fellowship club committee took him to breakfast. At 10 he received a committee from the Red Cross society and at 11 he attended the newspaper men's reception. It is one of the most strenuous days of his career.

The club reception will occupy Taft's time from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. Then the Irish Fellowship club banquet follows. Elaborate preparations are made by the club. His chair will stand on twelve feet of the old sod and the address will be delivered standing on it. He will visit the Traffic club and attend a conservation mass meeting to endorse his policies. He will leave at 11 p. m. for Rochester. He will be escorted to the depot by several committees. There will be fire works. Taft will be the principal speaker at the conservation mass meeting. Careful arrangements are made to guard the president during his stay. A swarm of plain clothes men and secret service attaches are mingled with the crowds surrounding him wherever he goes. At the hotel it is arranged to have an elevator for the exclusive use of the president.

ASSAULT AMERICAN.

Washington, March 17.—Honor G. Knowles, minister to Santo Domingo, was assaulted while riding, by Costello, brother of the governor of the province, according to the state department. His assailant was arrested. All the ministers of the Dominican government called at the legation to express regrets. Authorities say Costello was insane.

DR. MILLER LIKES TO READ MURDERS

DEFENDANT IN SAYLER CASE IS ALSO RECKLESS WITH FIRE-ARMS.

Watska, Ill., March 17.—Dr. William Miller charged with the murder of Saylor, is fond of reading unique murders. He asked for "The Murder of Dr. Gronin" to read in his cell. Friends say he is reckless with firearms. Four tentative jurors were accepted by the state and defense today.

Roosevelt is Host

Khartum, March 17.—Colonel Roosevelt will leave Khartum at 9 p. m. for Assoum. Roosevelt was out at a garden party this afternoon. There were native dances. The Khartum club, American missionaries and army officers were guests.

W. C. Madden.

Mr. W. C. Madden, of Birmingham, Ala., late of Paducah, died at his home Monday, March 14. The funeral was held Wednesday at Birmingham. He is survived by his wife. They resided in Paducah several years and are well known and have many friends here.

They were Miss Lela Diven, 23, of Calvert City, and Charles L. Sutherland, 26, of Sutherland. The couple was accompanied by Miss Mattie Eass and C. Gish.

LEXINGTON PLAN FOR COMMISSION CITY GOVERNMENT

Enacted by Legislature For Second Class Cities of Kentucky.

Commissioners' Salaries Aggregate $15,600 a Year.

NO RECALL OR INITIATIVE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 17. (Special.)—The bill, providing for the commission form of government for cities of the Second class passed on the last evening. The governor has until March 25 to act on it.

No County Detective.

Frankfort, Ky., March 17. (Special.)—The governor vetoed the bill providing for district detectives in counties having cities of the Second class.

Lexington, Ky., March 17.—The "Lexington plan" of municipal government is to be given a trial in Kentucky.

Under the provisions of the bill the question of the final adoption of the commission form of government will be voted upon in Lexington at the general election next November, and the sentiment for a change is so strong that there can be little doubt of an affirmative vote.

Briefly, the new charter provides for a complete reorganization of the city government by the election of a mayor and four commissioners, who shall have entire charge of all departments and appoint all employees. The first election of mayor and commissioners will be on Tuesday, November 7, 1911, and a non-partisan

MAY NOT BE VALID.

A question is raised today as to the constitutionality of the commission government bill. For second class cities, permitting them to choose between the commission and the present charter. Section 156 of the constitution says: "All municipal corporations of the same class shall possess the same limitations." It is suggested that if some of the cities choose the commission government and some retain their present charter, their powers and limitations may differ.

primary will be held on Saturday, October 21, a little over two weeks earlier. Any number of candidates may be nominated by petition for mayor and commissioners, regardless of party affiliations, and in the primary election all the names will go on the same ballot, arranged alphabetically without any party name or device.

Every citizen will be privileged to vote in the primary for one candidate for mayor and four for commissioners, by stamping in squares opposite their names. The highest two candidates for mayor and the highest eight candidates for commissioners will be declared the nominees, and their names will go on the ballot alphabetically in the general election two weeks later, again without party names or devices. The people will again vote for one candidate for mayor and four for commissioners, and the highest candidate for mayor and the highest four for commissioners will be declared elected.

The mayor's term will be four years, and the commissioners two years. In 1913 a police judge and four commissioners will be elected in the same way. Each alternate two years and the district will be headed by the mayor and the police judge, as both are constitutional officers and cannot be abolished or changed by charter amendments.

The mayor and commissioners will organize the new city government the first week of January, 1913, creating the following departments under the new charter:

Department of public affairs.
Department of public finance.
Department of public safety.
Department of public works.
Department of public property.

The mayor will be at the head of the department of public affairs and each of the commissioners will be assigned to one of the other departments by a vote of the majority.

The Lexington plan provides a salary of $3,600 for the mayor and $3,000 for each commissioner. There is no recall by which a certain number of citizens upon petition may secure an election to decide whether or not the commissioners shall resign or fill out their terms; no initiative by which citizens may compel the enactment of popular measures and referendum on petition of one-fourth the votes, which is impracticable.

Senator Eaton Believes Station For Agricultural Experiments Will be Established at Paducah

Talked With Governor, Who Seemed to Approve Measure--Good Roads Commission Will Recommend.

Since the bill authorizing the establishment of agricultural experiment stations in eastern and western Kentucky passed both the senate and the house, and the governor has intimated he will approve it, efforts will be made to see that Paducah is selected as a location for the station in western Kentucky. An appropriation of only $5,000 is authorized for its start, but it is expected to grow and become an important institution in the western part of the state.

State Senator W. V. Eaton, who advocated the bill, returned early this morning from Frankfort, after attending the session of the senate. Senator Eaton was pleased at the passage of the bill. When the bill was introduced, it was found that the eastern Kentucky senators were pulling for a station, too. Seizing the opportunity Senator Eaton consolidated the two bills, lined up the Democrats himself, and the eastern Kentucky senators got the Republican votes, and the bill passed easily. The location of the farm is in the hands of the commissioner of agriculture and the chairman of the Lexington experiment station, but Senator Eaton is confident Paducah will be selected. Senator Eaton said he had a talk with Governor Willson Tuesday night, and the governor intimated that he approves the bill because it is for the advancement of the farming over the state.

Good Roads Conference.

Senator Eaton is chairman of the good roads conference, that was appointed from both houses to investigate the road laws of other states, and to make a report at the next session of the general assembly. The good roads bill introduced at the recent session caused several squabbles. The houses could not agree on a bill, and the committee, consisting of five members appointed by the speaker of the house, three members appointed by the lieutenant governor, and one member by the governor, was arranged. The bill passed by both houses providing for the election of four county commissioners, who with the county judge, shall compose the fiscal court, does not apply to McCracken county, but only to Kenton county, whose representative introduced it.

Bank Examiner.

The bank examining bill, which passed Saturday after several bills had failed, was drafted by Senator Eaton. A number of bills were introduced, but each failed, and Senator Eaton was selected by the members of the committee to draft the bill, which incorporated the good features of each.

Senator Eaton said that everything the western part of the state wanted was secured, and he is highly elated. The bill, providing for a state normal school in the Purchase, was not introduced, because the condition of the state treasury was too low to admit of an appropriation sufficient to establish the school.

PRISONER HAS AN ALIBI WITNESS

YOUNG MAN IDENTIFIED AS HANDSOME BURGLAR DE-NIES THE CHARGE.

A nicely dressed young man was taken to the police station this afternoon, being suspected as the man who broke into the room of Miss Margaret Park early Tuesday morning. Chief of Police Singery was standing at Fourth street and Broadway this afternoon when he spotted the prisoner as being a man that answered the description given by Miss Park. She looked at him and said he was the man. He was taken to the police station, but protested his innocence. He said for several weeks he has been in La Center working for the Stewart Tobacco company, and over the long distance telephone the manager said it was true.

TEDDY MAKES HIT.

London, March 17.—London is singing the praises of Roosevelt today on account of his speeches delivered at Khartum yesterday in which he praised English rule in Egypt. It pleased the young natives who carry on the work. Englishmen think it will have a powerful effect, coming from Roosevelt. It is believed it will do more good than if expressed by any other man.

HILL REPEATS AN ANCIENT WARNING

CONSERVE WEALTH AND LEAVE RAILROADS ALONE HE TELLS HEARERS.

St. Paul, March 17.—In an address before the Minnesota conservation congress J. J. Hill cited a warning that national capital must be preserved given by him several years ago. He declared this is an age of financial delirium. He cited the national debts of European countries as evidence that tariff combines are the partial cause of present conditions. He declared the government is delinquent in its duties. If they paid the attention to conservation that they pay railroads' affairs they would do much better.

Hill declared the increase the public expenditures is a cause of public ills and one of the causes of the high cost of living. He says the responsibility cannot be placed on any one thing. Conservation of national capital is next to conservation of land. He says steps must be taken at once or it will be too late.

Irish Influence in America Has Been Enormous

It has been claimed that this country was discovered by St. Brendan, an Irish monk, eight or nine centuries before Columbus. And we are told on good authority that the ship that carried Columbus across the ocean had a Galway man on board.

There were two Irishmen on the Mayflower—William Mullins and Christopher Martin. Twenty years later five hundred or more were forcibly transplanted. In the days of Cornwall when $50 was paid for the head of a patriotic Irishman, more than 100,000 were driven out and most of them came to the American colonies. They came with a grievance and hence we find the Irish everywhere on the firing line and ready to die in the war for Independence. "You lost America by the Irish," declared Lord Mountjoy in the British parliament.

Aided Revolution.
The first blow, four months before Lexington, was struck by John Sullivan, from the rugged hills of old Desmond in ancient Kerry. He captured the British military stores at Portsmouth, thus crippling their operations.

The first British warship was captured by O'Brien, a Corkonian. The first official father of the American navy was Jack Barry, who hailed from gallant little Wexford, and the first American general to fall on the field of battle was Montgomery, an Irishman. It was the Irish, Stark and their Indian allies from the field at Bennington. The Irish generals, Ewing, Hand, Griffin, Conway and Stark, with their countrymen, helped to sweep Burgoyne and the redcoats from the field of Saratoga. It was two of these same generals with two other Irish general—Butler and Wilcox—that were with Washington when he crossed the Delaware and who with him surprised the British at the battle of Trenton; they were also with him when Cornwallis handed over his sword through the Irish general, O'Hara, to the American Gen. Lincoln at Yorktown.

HISTORY OF HOME OF FRIENDLESS AND ITS SUCCESS

Has Sheltered Fifteen Hundred Children in Seventeen Years.

More Room and Better Equipment Needed.

PLANS FOR ITS EXTENSION.

On account of the increasing demand for more room at the Home of the Friendless the board of directors is securing bids to build an addition consisting of six rooms with baths and all modern conveniences. One of the rooms will be a nursery, which will fill a long felt want. The home has never had the facilities for caring for the real young children, for that reason they have not been able to do as much along that line as they desired.

One of the older girls is now receiving instruction and after taking a course in nursing, will be put in charge of this department. A detention ward will be added where all suspicious or contagious cases will be treated. A play room for the little ones under school age will be provided. The hospital soon will be moved to the new addition and many other improvements made for the comfort and convenience of the inmates. An excellent school taught by the matron is maintained, where the children are instructed in the common school branches. Devotional exercises are held every Sunday afternoon, conducted by the ministers or laymen of the city. The children enjoy the talks and lead in the singing. The policy of the home is now, as it always has been, to provide a temporary refuge for homeless and friendless women and children of Paducah and vicinity, and to afford an opportunity for reclamation to those women who having led impure lives, give unmistakable evidence of a desire to reform and fit themselves for an honest livelihood. The children are taken in permanently, or until a better home can be secured for them.

A night's lodging and temporary help is always given the homeless. The excellent matron, Miss Raper, and her assistants look after the physical, mental and moral well being of their charges, besides training them in all kinds of domestic work. Many of the girls have been reared from infancy to young womanhood in the institution with no recollection of any other home, and their devotion to the matron is beautiful. The home has been established seventeen years, and in that time about fifteen hundred homeless and friendless have found shelter within its walls.

Employment has been found for a great number of women, and good Christian homes secured for the boys and girls. The directors try to keep in touch with the children after they leave the home, and if upon good authority they find the home undesirable, the child is taken back in the institution. There are fifty inmates in the home at present, and the doors are always open to the friendless and unfortunate. The board of directors number seventeen and are representatives from the different churches as follows: Mrs. L. M. Rieke, president; Mrs. E. G. Boone, Mrs. E. P. Noble, Mrs. Josephine Post, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Elbridge Palmer, Mrs. I. O. Walker, Mrs. L. S. DuBois, Mrs. H. S. Wells, Mrs. J. R. Puryear, Mrs. E. P. Gildson, Mrs. Wm. Kidd, Dr. Della Caldwell, Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. Meyer Lovitch, Mrs. E. B. Landis, Mrs. Cook Husbands.

"Block Day."
It is to be "Block Day" in Paducah all right. The Home of the Friendless has almost perfected the plans and today the envelopes have been distributed among the various chairmen of "the blocks," who number some 200 strong. Every portion of the city will be thoroughly covered in this way, as well as the Arcadia, Mechanicsburg and Littleville sections.

Tomorrow the chairmen will distribute their envelopes throughout their districts and will explain that they will be called for on Wednesday, March 23, at the blowing of the whistles. With this definite knowledge each individual, family, corporation, or anything with an envelope, can be ready and waiting.

It will be a business-like campaign, conducted in a dignified way by the representative women of the city. You make your own assessment. The envelope is handed in and counted at leisure by the committee in charge.

News of Theatres

"As Told in the Hills" will be presented one night, Friday, 18, at the Kentucky theatre.

Coming to the Kentucky theatre on Saturday, March 19, for an engagement of two performances, matinee and night, will be seen "A Wyoming Girl," a real western play with lots of good comedy running through the story. Miss Daisy Hazelton, who is "Slezak's" has been given much notice by the press for her clever work of this role.

Interest seems to grow in the coming of the wonderful comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," which will be seen at the Kentucky theatre on Easter Monday, March 28. All indications point to another Warfield and "Three Twins" crowd. Manager Goodman, of the Kentucky theatre, wired Mr. Harris, asking if it would be possible for him to extend his engagement for two nights at Paducah. This morning a reply was received, saying that it is impossible, due to being booked until June 1.

ONE MILE IN 27.33 SECONDS

TREMENDOUS SPEED MADE BY BARNEY OLDFIELD.

From a Flying Start Speed Next to
That of a Bullet—Went Mile in 40 Seconds Standing.

BOTH OF THESE NEW RECORDS

Daytona, Fla., March 17.—Barney Oldfield, driving against time from a flying start in a 200 horse-power automobile of special design, covered the fastest mile ever traveled by man. His time was 27.33 seconds. Nothing projected into space by man save a bullet ever traveled a mile at equal speed. The previous record was set here four years ago by Marriott, who drove a special steam car a mile in 28.20 seconds. Oldfield's rate was 131.72 miles an hour.

Returning to the starting line between the files of cheering spectators Oldfield ran his car from a standing start a mile against time and crossed the finish line with another record, 40.53 seconds as against 41.23 seconds made with the same car by Hemmery on the Brookfield track in England.

In the flying start effort, Oldfield came down the rocklike surface of the track to the starting line an indistinguishable blur of roaring flame and smoke. Almost before the eye could become adjusted to changing the perspective of the flight he had dwindled in the distance, and almost before the brain had translated the impressions of sight into realization, he had crossed the finish line. The timing was done with a mechanical device officially adopted by the American Automobile association.

The best previous official record for a mile from a flying start by a gasoline car is two miles in 58.50 seconds at Ormond Beach, in a 200 horse-power car by Demogot, in 1906.

WASHINGTON NEWS

this subject and thereupon Crawford turned to Aldrich, who is a member of the committee on interstate commerce, and questioned him as to his interpretation of the meaning of the provision.

"The whole truth," interrupted Bailey before Aldrich could reply, "is that the intention of the provision for the repeal of the anti-trust law is to reverse the supreme court of the United States. The effect and purpose is to take the railroads from under the supreme court."

Aldrich refuted the intimation of the Texan and from his colloquy rose a general discussion as to whether it had been the original intention to include the railroads in the original Sherman anti-trust bill. Aldrich said that no senator who had voted for the Sherman law had the slightest idea that the railroads were embraced fifth its terms.

"But all the same you are now trying to take them out of it," retorted Bailey.

"That is not true," said Aldrich. "The senator from Texas is mistaken as to the purpose of the proposed law as is the senator from Iowa."

Cummins would not admit that he could be mistaken, for he declared the purpose of the law was written broadly on its face. There could be no doubt that it repealed the law regarding traffic agreements, he said.

Elkins Refutes Contention.
Elkins undertook to refute this contention by reading the provision regarding agreements, and in so doing broadly asserted that everyone must know the railroads violate the law every day. This assertion was challenged by several senators, but the West Virginia senator held to his position, and asked, "now why embarrass the railroads?"

"True, true," responded Cummins under his breath.

Elkins contended that even though agreements were authorized by the pending bill, the commission still would have control of the rates, and even more comprehensive, control than under the present law.

"It is not the agreement that is powerful," said he, "but the rates themselves, and so long as the commission controls the rates it is in command of the situation."

Aldrich referred to the supposed alliance between the "insurgent" Republicans and Democrats, and then after a brief protest from Cummins over his method of presenting the matter, Aldrich declared his opinion was that no schedule of roads, whether under agreement or not, could go into effect without the approval of the commission.

Would Make It Right.
"If that is not clear in the bill, I am willing to have it made so," said Aldrich.

Responding to this statement, Cummins declared the only way to remedy the defect was to withdraw the repealing provision. To this suggestion Aldrich responded that he had found himself in such disagreement with Cummins that it had been impossible in the committee to go into

HE WINS THE FIRST MONEY

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—Tom Haley, of Detroit, on the closing day of the tenth tournament of the American Bowling Congress, rolled the remarkable score of 703 in the individual event, winning that event and sitting a new tournament record. He also won the prize for the best total for nine games with 1961, another record.

Haley's great series came after every one was certain that William Richter, of Chicago, would win with 692. Haley opened with 236 and the crowd went wild when he hung up 268 for his second. He needed 199 to win and made doubly sure with 201.

The former record in the singles was 699, made by Archie Wengler of Chicago at Cincinnati in 1908. The former mark for nine games was 1924, made by R. Crable, of East Liverpool, Ohio, in 1908.

The leading prize winners in the individuals are:

Thomas Haley, Detroit, 705—$325
William Richter, Chicago, 692—$265.

George Qualey, St. Louis, 689—$225.

Glen Fisher, Chicago, 660—$190.

W. C. Zoellner, Fon Du Lac, 657—$165.

Alex Dunbar, New York, 656—$140.

Max Unger, Cleveland, 649—$120.

George Oakley, Madison, Wis., 642—$100.

a discussion with him to the provisions of the bill.

The Iowa replied that he never made a single suggestion for the amendment in the committee and that Aldrich had heard none from him.

Cummins, while discussing the terms of the alleged anti-trust repeal, referred to some of the provisions when Aldrich stated that such was the purpose of the president and attorney general.

"The senator must not hide behind the president," said Nelson, excitedly, "that is small business and it won't do. That is not the way to legislate."

Aldrich excitedly disavowed and intention of taking refuge behind any one.

Hides Behind Nobody.

"It is not my habit," he said, to hide behind the president or any one else. I have opposed the president when it took a great deal of courage to do so. If the bill does not carry out the purpose of its authors, let's make it do it. The measure has been recommended by the president and by at least one ex-president, and it was approved by the platform of the party and I presume, also, the party of the senator from Iowa."

He declared that he had not said what the president wanted, but only that the bill had been prepared by the attorney general by the direction of the president. He hoped no senator would be prejudiced simply because of executive suggestion.

Bailey suggested that the real purpose of Aldrich in coming into the Whist, now! Has not the president kissed the blarney stone?

The man, who has no Irish blood in his veins, won't admit it today.

No inferences are to be drawn from the fact that the moon last night and the sun at dawn this morning were orange color.

Colonel Roosevelt will find lots of evidences in Egypt of men, who were great in their time, from which he can deduce much philosophy.

Lieutenant Governor Cox is acknowledged by men of all parties as a capable, impartial and dignified presiding officer. He never lost his head or his temper.

We believe Paducah will not exchange one mayor at $1,500 a year for five at $15,000 without a recall and initiative and referendum provision in the charter.

Since an Indiana court has made it a matter of record that there is no gambling at French Lick, church members may now play roulette, stud poker, craps or faro in the cottages with a clear conscience.

The governor of Georgia and the mayor of Atlanta both declined to introduce Commander Peary to his Atlanta audience. It is a good thing Peary didn't depend on them to introduce him to the north pole.

COMPELLING FAITH.

The story of the Home of the Friendless published in today's Evening Sun should appeal to every citizen's heart. No better work is being done here or elsewhere, or better done. When one considers how many homeless little children have been reared to maturity in this institution, how many women have found here a haven of safety, and realizes that all this has been accomplished in the face of a constant struggle for the wherewithal to maintain the Home, he begins to appreciate the hugeness of the task and the heroism and the faith of the women, who are planning to increase the size of the home to meet the demands upon it. They have been confronted with lack of funds; but they have not paused on that account. The Home is needed and it must be maintained; that is the spirit in which they have worked. Room is needed to care for more; and the women are planning to increase the size. They have not hesitated lest they fail; they have not considered the question, how, excepting incidentally; but, measuring the need, they have set about to meet it, well knowing that Providence never lets anything fail that is instrumental to its ends. Therein lies the courage that never contemplates defeat; the faith that compels justification, and the confidence that challenges human aid.

Such an institution as the Home of the Friendless, must either increase in capacity and efficiency or deteriorate, and each success in its upbuilding shows further reaches of possibilities and invites effort to make success more perfect. Paducah would suffer in every way if the Home of the Friendless were permitted to fail.

In any respect from lack of funds. It does not require so much from everyone, as the certainty that everyone must give something. The trouble with most of our charity is that we despise to give a little, when we can not afford to give much. Those who have most should give most, of course; but if all those, who have little, will contribute a little, we would not be surprised if their combined contributions would exceed that of the more prosperous donors.

It was not the rotten boroughs of the northwest or the money mad people of New York, who voted against the income tax amendment to the constitution of the United States, but the legislators of old Virginia and Kentucky. And there are some nasty stories out, concerning the manner in which defeat was effected.

TRIFLING WITH SENTIMENT.

The Confederate pension bill went through the legislature with songs, oratory and applause; but there is no money with which to pay the pensions. The legislators desired to make a grandstand play for the veterans, but they had no intention of alienating any taxpayers by increasing taxes to provide for them. That was a clever scheme, they thought. The governor must necessarily veto the bill, and hypocrites from both houses visited him and begged him not to veto it. This was to make the veto the more conspicuous. What will these same fellows do, if the governor calls them in special session this spring to pass a Confederate pension bill with provision for revenue to meet the obligation? Will they dare affront the sentiment of the state in favor of this kind of administration to the gallant old heroes, by defeating the bill? Will they dare make a record of increasing taxes by enacting measures to raise the necessary revenue? So delicate a thing as public sentiment, the cherished memories of a people, and the interests of those the people hold most dear, are dangerous elements with which to play politics.

THE CIVIL SERVICE BILL.

We suspect the civil service bill for police and fire departments in Second class cities is identical with the one Governor Wilson vetoed two years ago. It does not require the present force to undergo any standard of physical, mental and moral tests, but secures their positions during good behavior and allows them to appeal to the circuit court from the finding of the board of police and fire commissioners dismissing, suspending or fining them. It contains no provisions that will raise the standard of efficiency in the departments, but secures the permanent employment of the men, who are shielded from responsibility to the board that appoints them and the head of the department by their right of appeal. Just because a bill is labeled civil service does not make it meritorious.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Miss Anderson Thanks Friends.
I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks and sincerest regards to the N. C. & St. L. employees, who so graciously presented me with a beautiful gold watch and chain through their worthy and highly honored superintendent, Mr. W. J. Hills. Their gift, as well as their expressions of good will and commendation, will always be a source of inspiration to me. First, because I feel that to be recognized in this appreciable manner by such men as they is an honor not capable of being repayed in any other way than by the highest endeavors on the part of one so honored. Second, because I so admire and respect these men that my greatest desire shall be to grow more worthy of their esteem and approbation and if it is ever in my power to do something for each and all of them that will feebly express my appreciation. Again, I wish to thank them for their kindness to me.

Mr. A. J. Decker arrived in the city last night after a trip on business through the south.

IRISH INFLUENCE

he was accompanied by Gen. Joseph Reed, his first aide, and secretary. He distinguished himself at Brandywine, Germantown and Monmouth.

Declaration Signers.

Three signers of the Declaration of Independence—Thornton, Smith and Taylor—were Irish by birth, while six more were of direct Irish descent—Rutledge, Lynch, McKeon, Hart, Reed and Carroll.

The man who read aloud the declaration on the birth morning of the republic was Charles Thomson, born in Ireland. The second to publicly read it was Nixon, son of an Irish exile, while Thomas Dunlap, an Irishman, printed it.

The Dutch who took possession of New York were ultra-Protestants and Irish immigration was confined largely to the Protestants of Ulster. They scattered over New York state, and Ulster county was named in their honor. Newburgh was founded by Cassidy, an Irish immigrant.

Charles Clinton's descendants played important parts in American history. James became a general in the patriot army and married into the DeWitt family. He was father of DeWitt Clinton, who projected the Erie canal. His nephew, another DeWitt Clinton, became mayor of New York.

New Jersey was under the jurisdiction of New York and did not become a state until 1776, but as early as 1682 Joseph English settled at Mammouth. He was the ancestor of Thomas Dunn English, author of "Ben Bolt." Among the pre-revolutionary Irish in New Jersey were the Bradys, Kellys, Connellys, McLanes, McGills, etc.

Irish in Pennsylvania.

The Irish settled in Pennsylvania long before the Germans, French and Dutch. William Penn's secretary, James Logan, came from County Armagh. The famous Pennsylvania line regiment was made up almost wholly of Irishmen, whose conspicuous part in the struggle made Col. Custis, the adopted son of Washington, exclaim: "Let the shamrock be entwined with laurels of the revolution, and truth and justice, guiding the pen of history, inscribe upon the tablet of America's remembrance: 'Eternal Gratitude to Irishmen.'"

Perhaps three-fourths of the population of Pennsylvania were Irish or of Irish extraction and of these more than half actively participated in the fight for freedom.

The colony of Maryland was protected by George Calvert, secretary of state under Charles I, afterward raised to the peerage, taking the title Lord Baltimore, from the town of that name in the County Cork. His son, Cecil, founded what is now the state of Maryland. The people were mostly Irish Catholics, but laws were passed extending religious equality to all who believed in the Trinity. In this colony the Carrolls settled, who gave to this nation the illustrious Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, one of the signers of the declaration of independence, and the no less illustrious John Carroll, the first American bishop of the Roman Catholic church. Fully 8,000 revolutionary soldiers of Irish descent came from Maryland.

When the continental army returned to Philadelphia after the British evacuation in 1778, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick were foremost among the Anti-Tory associations. All the patriotic men who composed the Society of Friendly Sons were Protestants except Stephen Moylan, a Cork man, who was chosen first president of the society, which speaks volumes for the religious toleration of the members.

Washington was admitted to the society. Though of English descent, he showed his regard for the Irish by making Knox the head of artillery; Moylan, he put in charge of the cavalry; Montgomery got chief command of the northern army, while he placed Barry at the head of the navy. Wayne, Irvine, Butler, Stewart, Shea and Thompson were made generals.

In New England the Irish were conspicuous. The ancestors of John Hancock came from County Down, Thornton, one of the signers of the declaration of independence, came from New Hampshire. Gen. John Sullivan came to New Hampshire from Limerick. His brother became governor of Massachusetts. The colonial history of New England cannot be written without the Moores, Molonyes, Orrs, O'Flims and Murphys.

Herold Matthew Lyon, the Wick-fow refugee, not alone helped to plant the flag of liberty in Vermont and Connecticut, but had a good share in holding it above the whole nation.

Irish in South.

The story of the southern states is very largely the history of the Irish—the Colemans, Ryans, Dohertys, McLaughlins, McDowell, Shays, Joyces, Conways and Dalys, of Virginia; and the Moores and the Rutledges, the Lynches, the Burkes, the Calhouns and the Baldwins, in the Carolinas.

Andrew Jackson's ancestors came from Antrim and settled in South Carolina ten years before the revolution.

In Georgia we find the gallant Irish Knoxes, Dooleys, McCalis, Clarkes, Butters and the Pollocks, the latter the direct ancestors of President Polk.

Kentucky's most famous settlers, the McGrady's, came from County Mayo.

Delaware, though small, can make large boast of its John Road, father of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who came from Dublin in 1688. Thomas McKinley, the first governor of Delaware after independence, was an Irishman born.

One of the most intrepid soldiers of the south, Gen. Francis Marion, was an Irishman, and Gen. James Shields, hero of two wars, takes a proud place in Irish America. He was supreme court judge in Illinois, a governor of Oregon and represented Illinois and Minnesota in the United States senate.

In the Civil War.

The battlefields of the Civil war bear testimony to the patriotism of the Irish—Fredericksburg, where Tom Meagher, with his Irish, lay before St. Mary's heights; Sheridan's matchless ride down the Shenandoah valley; Sherman's relentless march from Atlanta to the sea; the Wilderness, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Chattanooga and Appomattox.

The Irish in the south stood with the state to which they believed they owed their first allegiance and with whom their fortunes were identified. Among the most distinguished Confederate soldiers was Gen. Patrick R. Cleburne.

Monroe, Jackson, Buchanan, McKinley and Arthur were presidents of Irish descent. Roosevelt's mother was of Irish descent.

Blaine, who lost the presidency by 1,100 votes in New York, one of the greatest figures in American politics, was of Irish descent.

Thomas Donagan, one of the first and best of New York's governors, who framed the charter of the commonwealth, was Irish.

Bishop Berkeley, a Kilkenny Protestant, came to Rhode Island in 1728 and played an important part in the foundation of Yale. Harvard and King's (now Columbia), Gilbert Tennant, from Armagh, was one of the founders of education in America. Dr. Archibald Alexander, for 40 years famed as a professor in Princeton, was the grandson of an Irishman. Andrew Porter, whose father came from Derry, opened a mathematical school in Philadelphia 1767. One of his sons became governor of Pennsylvania. The foremost educational institution after independence was won was Pennsylvania college. Its Provost Allison was an Irishman. The most distinguished mathematician of the revolutionary period was Robert Adrian, an Irishman, Mathew Corey, the first American writer on political economy, was born in Armagh in 1761. Robert Fulton was Irish, while the introduction of cotton manufacture was made by an Irishman born, Patrick Tracey, Johnson.

In more recent years the Irish came with the pick and shovel and nobly did their part in laying the foundation of the nation's prosperity. The descendants of hod-carriers and ditch laborers are found in the halls of learning, the laboratories of science, on the bench, in the pulpit, at the bar and in every line of business that contributes to the making of the nation.

Names like that of the elder John Drew among actors; Augustus St. Gaudens, among sculptors; John W. Mackay, whose millions linked Europe and America together by an Atlantic cable; A. T. Stewart, among merchant princes; Robert Bonner and P. F. Collier among publishers, are only a few Irish among our nation builders, who have recently passed away, while among the living Irish such names as James J. Hill, the creator of the northwest; Victor Herbert, among musicians; Cockran among orators; Thomas F. Ryan and Alexander E. Orr, among financiers; White and McKenna, of the United States supreme court, among justices; names like these might be multiplied indefinitely to prove that the Irish in America not only made good, but helped to make America peerless among the nations.—News-Scimitar.

PAY CHECKS

WILL BE GIVEN EMPLOYEES BY THEIR FOREMEN.

Last Trip of Illinois Central Pay Car To Paducah Was Made Yesterday.

Yesterday was the last visit of the pay car of the Illinois Central railroad in Paducah, as after the completion of this trip, the pay car will be abolished. Hereafter the employees will receive their checks from the foremen, as the checks will be mailed from Chicago. It is said that the new system is adopted as a result of the change in management of the road. By the new method the payment of the employees will be quicker, and if an employee fails to meet the pay car, his check can be secured without trouble. Years ago the Illinois Central paid local employees by handing out the cash at the local offices, but now checks will be used.

GOT SO BAD STAYED IN BED

An Ingram Lady Says She Got So Bad, She Had to Stay in Bed, Until Released by Cardui.

Ingram, Tex.—"I have suffered from womanly trouble ever since I first became a woman," writes Mrs. E. M. Evans, of this place.

"Last night, I just got so bad, I had to stay in bed, for nearly a week every month."

"I suffered with a pain in my left side and in my back, but since I have taken Cardui I feel better than I have for years."

Cardui acts on the womanly organs, and helps the system to regain its normal state of health, in a natural way.

It is a pure, vegetable extract, that has no severe medicinal action but acts mildly, as a curative medicine should act, and therefore can have no bad after-effects.

You can rely on Cardui. It is prepared for women and not for men. It relieves pain, by acting on the cause, and builds up womanly strength where it is most needed.

If your druggist is a friend, ask him confidentially if he recommends Cardui. He will tell you the truth. It is a good medicine. Try it.

DRY GOODS STORES

ARE HAVING THEIR SPRING GREENINGS TODAY.

All Are Bowers of Beauty to Fascinate the Feminine Eye

The dry goods stores are blossoming forth in spring plumage today. Rudy's, Ogilvie's and Harbour's having their formal Spring Openings today, and Guthrie's having this as the initial day of their Twenty-fourth Anniversary Sale. Bountiful provision is made for the most fastidious taste in the displays of new things, and the stores are beautifully decorated.

An unique feature at L. B. Ogilvie & company's opening is the room, brilliantly lighted by electricity, in which are displayed those fabrics intended for evening wear. It is a most popular innovation and excites a great deal of favorable comment.

The big store of b. a. Rudy & Sons is indeed a bower of beauty today, and the atmosphere of Spring is heightened wonderfully by the joyous carolling of half a hundred canaries which Mr. Henry Rudy brought from New York especially for the occasion.

At Guthrie's and Harbour's the showing of new things is truly exceptional and special stress is laid upon the special prices which prevail during Pre-Easter sales.

Danderine

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 2-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes,
25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

MILLINERY OPENINGS

WOMEN FLOCK DOWNTOWN TO SEE DISPLAYS.

Fine Weather Brings Out Unusually Large Crowds to All the Shops.

Today was a day in every way dear to the feminine heart. Not so much because it was St. Patrick's Day, but it was opening day at all of the millinery stores, and the latest creations in hats were on exhibition. The pleasant weather brought out hundreds of ladies, who were anxious to see the "dear" things, while the men were as eager to avoid the millinery shops or hear a discussion of the headgear. The openings were continued all day, and many will remain open tonight.

For the occasion the shops were prettily decorated, and the newest styles were displayed attractively. The chandelier hat with its poultry yard reminiscents was there, as well as all of the various turban hat styles. Some of the hats are larger than last year's styles, but the majority are turbans.

The stores that held openings today were: Miss Zula Cobb, 320 Broadway; Miss Zula Cobb, 320 Broadway; Mrs. C. N. Baker, 319 Broadway; Mrs. J. W. Sherill, 305 Broadway; Mrs. Girardey, second floor at Rudy's; Mrs. A. Doup, 428 Broadway; Mrs. Ferriman, 405 Broadway; Mrs. Rogers, 1205 Broadway, and Harbour's, North Third street.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of Kidney or Bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.

RAVING MANIAC

SLAYER OF BESSIE STITH GOES MAD IN JAIL.

Strength of Several Men Required to Subdue Him—His Attempts at Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., March 17.—Arthur M. Miles, who several weeks ago shot and killed Bessie Stith at Clay street and Broadway, became a raving maniac in his cell at the jail and the services of ten guards and trustees was necessary to hold him. He has on two occasions been an inmate of the asylum for the insane at Hopkinville.

Miles bit his hands and arms, tore his clothing and scratched his face until overpowered by the guards in a desperate struggle. He has been handcuffed, shackled and placed in a straight jacket, while his arms are muffled.

The killing of Bessie Stith is regarded as the worst murder committed here within a year. Miles had been associated with the girl for several weeks and they posed as man and wife. Miles' wife and baby came to Louisville a few days before the tragedy and following his arrest Miles told Maj. Patrick Ridge, night chief of police, that he had deemed it necessary for him to get rid of Bessie Stith or his wife.

He had made several attempts to end his life since his confinement at the jail. On the first occasion he cut his throat and wrist and ate glass from an electric light globe; and the second time he was plaiting strips of his shirt into a rope when detected by the guards. He has displayed symptoms of lunacy for ten days, but was considered harmless until he went on a rampage.

It's a Good Sound Common Sense Policy

To use medicines only of KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which contain neither alcohol nor habit-forming drugs. It is foolish—often dangerous to do otherwise. The most intelligent people, and many of the most successful, conscientious physicians, follow this judicious course of action. The leading medical authorities, of all schools of medicine, endorse the ingredients composing Dr. Pierce's medicines. These are plainly printed on wrappers and attested under oath. There's no secrecy; an open publicity, square-deal policy is followed by the makers.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, devised and gotten up by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in treating woman's peculiar diseases and carefully adapted to work in harmony with her delicate organization, by an experienced and skilled specialist in her maladies.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath.

We have a profound desire to avoid all offense to the most delicate sensitiveness of modest women, for whom we entertain the most sincere respect and admiration. We shall not, therefore, particularize here concerning the symptoms and peculiar ailments incident to the sex for which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has for more than 40 years proven such a boon. We cannot, however, do a better service to the afflicted of the gentler sex than to refer them to Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great family doctor book of 1000 pages, bound in cloth and given away gratis, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps—to cover cost of mailing only. All the delicate ailments and matters about which every woman, whether young or old, single or married, should know, but which their sense of delicacy makes them hesitate to ask even the family physician about, are made plain in this great book. Write for it.

The market ruled steady on all grades. Selected 165 pounds and up selling at $11; 150 to 165 pounds, $10.50; pigs ranged from $8.70 for light pigs to $10 for heavy pigs; roughs, $10.20 down. Cattle—Receipts, 106 head; for three days this week, 1,124. The attendance of buyers was light again and limited to the local talent, yet on account of light receipts the market ruled fairly active. Good butcher cattle were in strong favor and sold readily at fully steady to strong prices. Even the medium and common kinds sold pretty well. Good call for good feeders and stockers at steady prices. Bulls strong, canners steady. Much cows unchanged. No heavy cattle here worth speaking of. Feeding steady. The pens were well cleared and the market closed strong.

Calves—Receipts, 166; for the three days, 428. The market ruled firm. Bulk of the best, 8@8 1/2c. Some fancy higher. Medium, 5 1/2@7 1/2c; common, 2 1/2@5c.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE.

St. Patrick was a gentleman, sure his name we celebrate.
On the 17th of March the Irish congregate.
A brand new hat on each one's head
And a green necktie that's newly made.
We march along with Dan and Pat
In the St. Patrick's Day parade

You should see the marshal on his horse just like Napoleon Bonaparte.
And as he rides along the line he breaks each lady's heart.
And if the rain should come down then we'd hoist our umbrellas high.
For history states that Irishmen are always warm and dry.

Then it's two by two away we go
Up Broadway through the rain or snow.
We'd face the devil, friend or foe
In the St. Patrick's Day parade.

John Greene Ballance, who died at Miami, Fla., about a month ago, was one giving his body to the Peoria Medical society for dissection. The provision was carried out insofar as offering the body was concerned, but today the medical society declined to accept the tender and the body will be interred.

CANNON GETS ANOTHER RAP

INSURGENTS AND DEMOCRATS VOTE DOWN SPEAKER'S RULING.

Vote Was 163 to 111—Many Regulars Were Absent and This Helped Allies.

REPUBLICANS AGAINST CANNON

Washington, March 17.—Although the Republican organization of the house took radical measures to insure against a repetition of yesterday's defeat at the hands of the Democratic-insurgent Republican combination over the question of the maintenance of an automobile for the speaker, the allies scored another victory over the regulars today because of the absence of many Republican members.

On appeal from the decision by Speaker Cannon in the matter of precedence for a joint resolution, the house voted against the speaker, 163 to 111. In addition to the full Democratic vote and 30 insurgents who have always stood against the speaker, a dozen other Republicans, heretofore regulars voted to turn down the ruling of the chair. Among the 42 Republicans who voted against the speaker were: Carey, Cooper, Davidson, Kopp, Lenroot, Morse, Nelson, Stafford (Wisconsin), Davis, Lindbergh, Miller, Stearnson, Stevens, Volstead, (Minnesota), Dawson, Good, Haughey, Kendall, Pickett, Woods, (Iowa), Gronna, (North Dakota), McLaughlin, Townsend, (Michigan), Martin, (South Dakota), Wilson, (Illinois).

Just before the vote Cannon addressed the house, asserting his reasons for the ruling and showing indifference as to what action the house might take.

He had ruled that the constitutional nature of the resolution offered by Representative Crumpacker in reference to the coming census gave it precedence over the house rule establishing "calendar Wednesday," which was a feature of the Fitzgerald rule.

"Whatever may occur seemingly to rebuke the chair, whether from pique or otherwise," the speaker announced, "I shall interpret the rules as I see them."

More than eighty members arrived late to answer to their names on the roll call.

It was announced by a member of the house organization that hereafter a quorum must be present and that the attendance of absent members is going to be compelled.

There was talk of invoking the old rule, instituted by Speaker Crisp, of docking members a day's pay whenever they failed to respond to the roll call. It was stated that the Republican leaders intend to see that

CAUSE OF ECZEMA EXPLAINED.

After years of debate medical authorities are now agreed that Eczema and other skin diseases are not seated in the blood, but are caused by myriads of microscopic animals gnawing the flesh just below the epidermis. The patient is perfectly healthy, it is only the skin that is diseased.

Hence, scientists are now agreed that you must cure the skin through the skin. The medicine must be in liquid form in order to penetrate properly. And we can say with confidence that we have the true remedy for Eczema in our store.

The instant you wash with this soothing liquid you will find the itch relieved. We positively assure you of this. Will you try a bottle (at only 25c), on our recommendation? Ask for D. D. Prescription.—R. W. Walker Co.

BANKERS FIGHT POSTAL BANKS

OBJECT TO UNCLE SAM DOING A BANKING BUSINESS.

Washington, March 17.—Hearings on the postal savings bank bill, which recently passed the senate, began before the house committee on postoffices. Representatives of the American Bankers' association, the organization that embodies the principal opposition to the bill, and stated their objections to the postal savings banks. It is understood the hearings will continue some time.

Chairman Weeks asked whether any one was to appear in support of postal savings banks. He replied that he believed not. Mr. Weeks added that at the hearings held a year ago the affirmative side was very fully presented.

Opposition to postal savings banks was voiced before the house committee on postoffices and post roads by representatives of the American Bankers' association. Not only did the speakers oppose the postal savings bank bill which recently passed the senate, but they opposed the principle of the government going into the banking business.

E. R. Guernsey, vice-president of the First National bank of Fremont, Neb., and a member of the executive council of the bankers' association, said that the establishment of postal savings banks in Nebraska would cause withdrawals of large amounts of money from the banks of the state, seriously upsetting business. There was no general demand, he thought, for postal savings banks in his state.

The national and state banks were able, he said, to take care of all banking business there. The matter of the security and safety of the deposits greatly outweighed the consideration of the interest paid, said Mr. Guernsey, and if the government established the postal banks, offering 2 per cent interest, the deposits would come to them, even though the state banks might be offering 3 or 4 per cent interest. Security was what the people demanded, he said.

Capt. Bogarous Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot, who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots, is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I have suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and have used several well known kidney medicines all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I was subjected to severe backache and pains in my kidneys with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding. While upon arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and once more feel like my own self. All this I owe solely to Foley's Kidney Pills and always recommend them to my fellow sufferers."—Gilbert's Drug Store.

Popcorn May Be Fatal.
Louisville, Ky., March 17.—The manager of the Melwood distillery, seven employees and two government revenue men narrowly escaped death by the prompt attendance of physicians after they had eaten corn popped in a frying pan which had contained a lubricant known as "black oil." Three of them are still in danger of dying.

STANDARD OIL CASE UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Much Interest Shown Both By the Spectators and Members of Bench.

JOHNSON CLOSES FOR STANDARD

Washington, March 17.—The dissolution of "Standard Oil" is now a question for the supreme court of the United States alone. The final argument of the famous suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company of New Jersey as a conspiracy and a monopoly in violation of the Sherman law, was made, and the court took the case under advisement.

The third day in the contest of the counsel before the court was memorable, not only because of the arguments made, but also because of the interest manifested in the proceedings on the part of the bench and by the people attracted. The rule of the court prohibiting spectators standing was swept aside and members of congress stood around the wall of the room. Not in years have so many persons packed into the chamber.

Attorney General Wickersham and John G. Johnson, for the defense, made the closing remarks. D. T. Watson, the Standard Oil counsel, addressed the court earlier in the day.

Wickersham taunted the opponents for "desiring to cast a veil of oblivion over its past." He spoke of that past as containing national scandal which the courts and legislators were called on to put down. He emphasized the position that the reorganization of 1899 gave the Standard Oil company a more solidified organization than it possessed before, the organization which prevented subsidiary companies from competing.

In closing he urged that the court be not influenced by the cry that the proceeding was a blow to business.

The closing address by Johnson was partly in reply to Wickersham. He paid his compliments to Frank B. Kellogg, author of the petition of the government filed in the circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Missouri, and on which the decree of dissolution now before the court for review was based.

Johnson said it reminded him of the contents of the witches' cauldron in Macbeth, in that it appeared to have been made up of a collection from the scrap books of disappointed oil producers and magicians, female or otherwise. The best part about it was that it ended with a prayer, he said.

Johnson interpreted what he designated as a "new doctrine of potential competition," as an attempt to require each individual to compete with himself. Turning to another phase of the controversy, he asked, "How on earth could we monopolize the manufacture of refined oil when we control only 11 per cent of the crude oil output?"

"The remedy the government asks you to apply," said he, "is not unlike a surgical operation of amputating a foot to remove a thorn from the toe."

GERMAN URGES PRESS SUBSIDY

SECRET SERVICE MONEY TO CREATE PRO-GERMAN FEELING.

Action Not Without Precedent, Declares Herr Dirksen—Cites Diplomats' Use.

WOULD USE EMPIRE'S FUNDS.

Berlin, March 17.—Herr Dirksen (Conservative), in the reichstag, made the surprising statement today that the government secret service funds ought to be used "an attempt to influence the opinion of the foreign press in favor of Germany." He asserted that such a course was necessary to energetically and quickly counteract the effects of the present attacks on Germany, which, he said, were universally disliked.

Herr Dirksen, in justifying his plan, referred to the practice of certain members of the diplomatic corps. Some of these men, he said, had been promoted to high positions at phenomenally youthful ages, one such attracting attention to himself by securing prominence in the press. The speaker saw no objection to the diplomat's use of the public prints, which constituted a great power, but he did think it displeasing that certain German diplomats exhibited an inclination to throw light on their own deeds in the newspapers.

The New Orleans Picayune of Tuesday says: The dredge boat George Sealy, as she now lies sunk in the river, off the wharf of the Union Machine works, Algiers, is announced to be sold at public auction on Thursday, March 24. The Sealy, which is a 600-h. p., fully equipped dredge, measures 145 feet in length and 38 in width, and was built in 1904. She sank a little over a year ago, and is said to be resting in an easy position on the bottom of the river, between forty and fifty feet below the surface. During the last stage of the river an immense bulkhead was built around her in an attempt to get her afloat, but while the work of pumping out the big box like structure was progressing a weakness in one end developed. Since then the high stage of the river has prevented any further effort to raise the dredge.
